

ADAMARIS

APERÇU.

The 43m (141.1ft) ADAMARIS was built by Turkish builder Urkmezler. She is of cold-moulded mahogany construction and was built and registered in 2010. However, she was not launched until 2017, after which she underwent an extensive refit in 2019-2021 and her guest areas are in as-new condition. She was built to RINA classification and is certified by Turkish Lloyds.

ADAMARIS has a large sun deck that features a 3m x 4m (9.8ft x 13.1ft) plunge pool. Forward of the pool is a large sunpad and sun lounge area. Aft of it, is a hardtop that covers an open space, a steam room (port) and a sauna (starboard). Glass doors lead to the aft deck, here one finds forward-facing sunpad seating. Steps, to port, lead to the upper deck. Here one finds a forward-facing U-shaped seating area. High-bulwarked side decks lead to a Portuguese bridge al fresco lounge area on the foredeck. On the main deck, the cockpit features a formal dining area with forward-facing U-shaped bench seating to the rear. Steps on either side to the high-bulwarked swim platform and beach club area.

She can accommodate 12 guests in six spacious guest suites. On the lower deck, there are two full-beam double VIP suites (forward and aft) with a twin-berth cabin and a double-berth cabin located to port and starboard between them. Forward of the guest accommodation is the crew mess and accommodation. ADAMARIS also has one of two master suites on the main deck. This full-beam suite is entered past a private balcony area with a table and chairs. Moving forward there is a king-sized berth and a large lounge area with an electric fireplace. There is a dressing table area and a large en suite bathroom to the rear. On the upper deck is the primary master suite. It too has a lounge area with an electric fireplace but benefits from floor-to-ceiling windows and its raised location. It has a walk-in wardrobe, an en suite bathroom and direct access to the upper aft deck al fresco lounge area. The main lounge benefits from the yacht's beam and a line of three floor-to-ceiling picture windows running its length. There is a formal dining area forwards and a lounge area with sofa seating to the rear.

On the foredeck, there is a deck stowage for a 4.5m (14.8ft) tender launched via deck crane.

ADAMARIS is powered by two 1,970 hp MTU engines (630 hours each, warranty until 2024) these give her a cruising speed of 16 knots and a maximum speed of 22 knots.
