

GUILLEMOT

GUILLEMOT

OVERVIEW.

GUILLEMOT is a genuinely iconic and extremely successful yacht from the drawing board of the celebrated naval architect Ed Dubois, built by the elite Vitters shipyard with interior design by Rhoades Young. You don't get a better pedigree than that for a sailing superyacht. She's a 43-metre world cruising sloop noted for her exceptional performance under sail, with timelessly graceful exterior lines, nicely understated contemporary interiors and spacious accommodation for 10 guests in five cabins.

Under sail, GUILLEMOT is swift and steady with an easy, comfortable motion, the immense sail power of her towering rig – almost a thousand square metres – controlled with precision by buttons and joysticks from the twin helm stations. Captive reel winches mounted under the deck keep the highly loaded lines and sheets well away from the main exterior spaces on board, ensuring the safety and tranquillity of guests during all sail-handling operations. The passenger cockpit is spacious and stylish yet snug and secure, ideal for comfortable voyaging.

At anchor, a large bathing platform folds out of her stern with steps leading down from the aft deck. She carries two RIB tenders and a great selection of toys – SeaBobs, kayaks, waterskis, wakeboards and paddleboards, a windsurfer, a towing inflatable, diving sets, fishing gear and more. The day beds on the aft deck are perfect nooks for sunbathing and the passenger cockpit becomes a sheltered, shaded outdoor social hub that converts into a splendid dining area.

Inside the deckhouse, just a couple of steps from the passenger cockpit, the upper saloon is a superb living space designed for use at sea with a lounge, a dining table and panoramic views. The décor throughout the interior is calm and restful with minimal detailing, beautifully furnished and finished in blond birch wood with oiled teak floors. The lower saloon is a large, relaxing lounge with plenty of natural light and all mod-cons including Sonos and HD Blu-Ray. Wi-fi and Apple TV are available throughout.

The master suite is a big mezzanine cabin with a sofa and study desk plus a separate dressing room, sauna and en suite bathroom. The other guest cabins are two doubles and two twins, all finished to the same standard and style.

Her cruising range under sail is virtually limitless and she can cross an entire ocean under power, so she can fulfil your voyaging ambitions almost anywhere on Earth.
