INUKSHUK

OVERVIEW.

The Scandanavian built sailing yachts by Baltic have a long-established reputation for being high quality and fast. INUKSHUK is no exception and is an excellent award-winner for the avid sailor.

INUKSHUK's carbon composite hull is light, allowing her to glide through the water with minimal effort. She has beautiful, clean lines, a flush deck and a cockpit dining area just aft of the main companionway with retractable shade. Continuing the clean styling, her interiors by Adam Lay are inspired by the North American lake region - a mix of textures, colours and light that celebrate nature - simple and cool with pops of colour in the soft furnishings.

Accommodation for up to 8 guests comprises of a master cabin forward with a private office area, a VIP cabin forward on the starboard side and two twin cabins starboard and port side, aft. Aside from the intelligent design, tranquil atmosphere and comfortable furnishings, it's worth mentioning that there is no concern for head room on board this yacht.
