NOME

OVERVIEW.

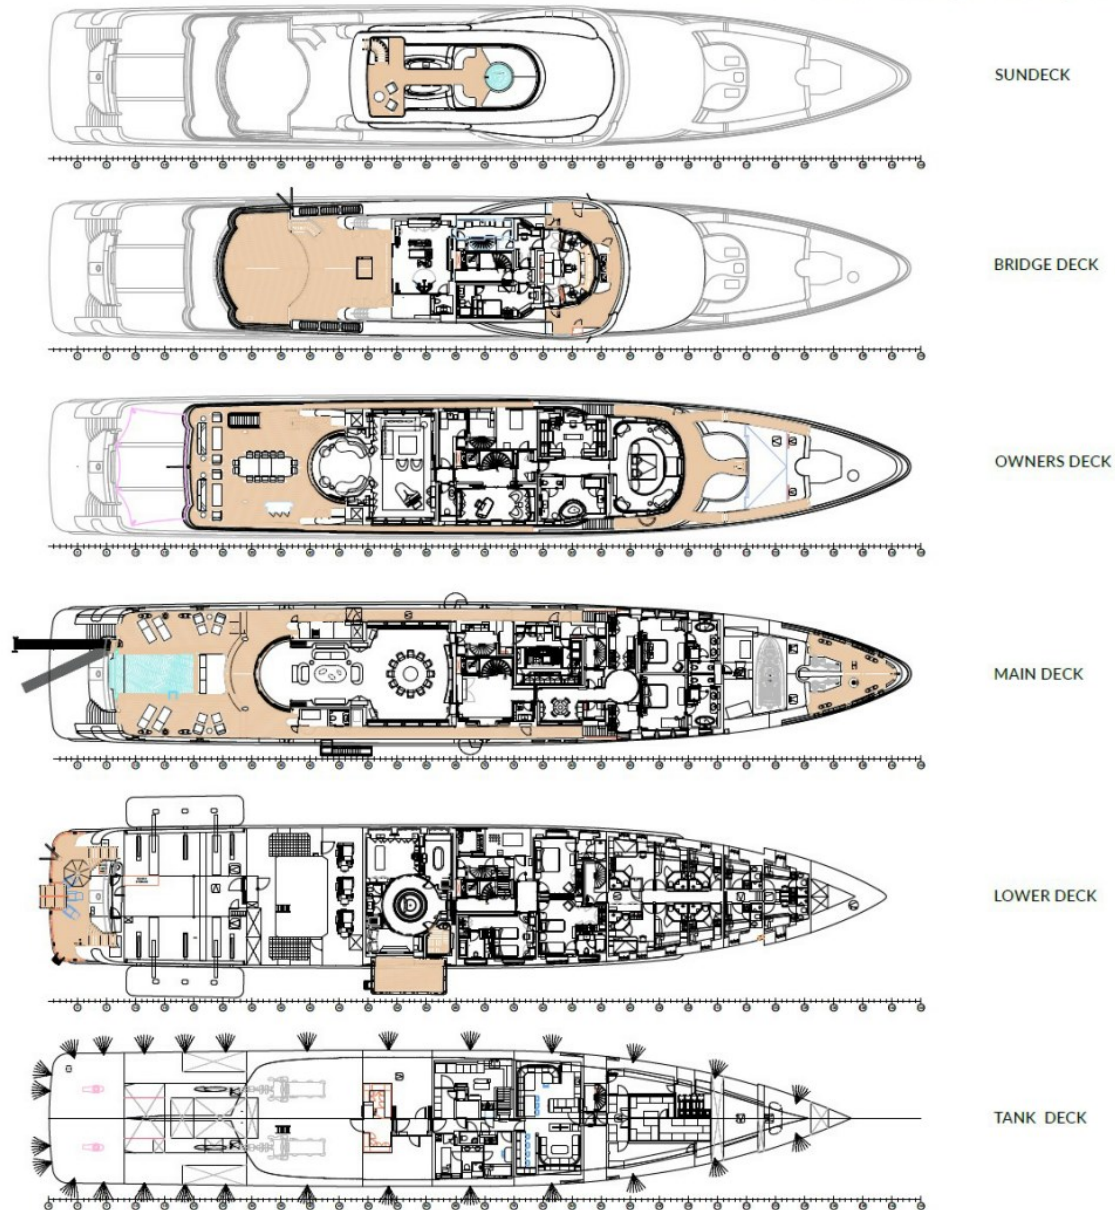

Delivered in 2025, 74m (242ft) NOME is the eighth hull in the successful Amels 242 range. Naval architecture by Damen Yachting, exterior design by Tim Heywood and interiors by Winch Design all come together harmoniously to create this extraordinary yacht, cohesive with its blue colour scheme visible on the exterior, with semi-precious blue agate stones, blue marbles, and blue mosaics throughout.

Guests will find no shortage of dining and entertainment areas across NOME's multiple decks, including a large aft swimming pool plus a jacuzzi on the owner's deck for private relaxation.

Inside, the options are equally endless, with spacious saloons and dining areas fitting for both formal and casual occasions. But the lower deck is the star of the show, where wellness is the order of the day. A jacuzzi provides the central point, around which guests can expect a sauna, steam room, juice bar, and massage and hair dressing salon.

12 guests can find sumptuous accommodation on board NOME. The most lavish is the owner's suite, found on the owner's deck, and is full beam with curved floor-to-ceiling glass windows looking forward and out onto private deck with sofas. It also boasts a large bathroom, dressing room, office, and a lounge with a piano. On the main deck, there are two VIP suites with a VIP rotunda giving private access to these cabins. The remaining accommodation can be found on the lower deck, where three cabins – one twin, one double, and one convertible – provide excellent space for additional guests.
