

RH THREE

RH THREE

OVERVIEW.

Taking the ‘home at sea’ concept to a new level of sophistication, RH THREE is a unique offering on the explorer yacht market. Conceived by Dutch design studio Vripack and built in 2003 by RMK in Istanbul, the boat, last refit by Rybovich in 2016, takes its unusual exterior from working vessels. A proven transatlantic expedition boat – having crossed the Atlantic over 16 times – RH THREE will transport you to new shores in otherworldly style.

When you step foot on the main deck aft you enter a new dimension. Demonstrating strong elements of Scandinavian chic, RH THREE's interior is soft yet bold, contemporary yet homely, light-filled yet warm. Brushed oak is the dominant interior material, found on the ceilings, floors, walls and loose furniture. Timber pillars, nautical-style windows and low ceilings deliver a boat's aesthetic, neatly balanced by comfort and styling details akin to a Manhattan loft.

Gather around the main deck dining table where adventures are planned in cosy intimacy. On the main deck aft, sink into the bank of sofas – designed with entertaining in mind. The open plan arrangement allows for relaxation adjacent to the onboard gym located on the foredeck, creating a vibrant space to both chill out post fitness and socialise during workout. Pockets of privacy are found throughout the interior for those who seek solitude. Outdoors, the world beckons.

Vast open deck spaces place emphasis on the surrounding scenery. Kick back on the oversized sun beds on the main deck aft. The yacht offers two options for al fresco dining, both under canopy if desired. Those who like to plot the journey should join the captain on the bridge. Those who like to enjoy the ride can seek solace and views from the windswept observation deck, which also serves as a second outdoor gym, or crash out on the lounge beds forward of the bridge.

Two military-spec RIB tenders are housed on the bridge deck, gifting easy launch and retrieval. The 5,000 nautical mile range serves as proof of the explorer's ocean-going vocation. Dive below the waves from the yacht's extended swim platform. Frolic in the sea with the water toys. At the end of the day, retire to the glamorous guest cabins to rest weary muscles. The full-beam master suite, complete with a Carrera marble en suite, is found on the lower deck, as is a single cabin. Three double cabins are located on the main deck forward. Striking from top to bottom, RH THREE delivers capability, adventure and beauty in one.
