SILVER SHALIS

OVERVIEW.

SILVER SHALIS is a 54.9m (180ft) motor yacht delivered by Delta Marine in 2010. This lightweight semi-displacement yacht has an aluminium hull and composite superstructure.

SILVER SHALIS’ exterior design was the final project for the talented Bill Langan. With a notable cerulean blue hull, she features an off-white superstructure and metallic silver accents throughout. There are multiple outdoor lounging and al fresco dining options spread across her three decks. Aft of the sun deck gym, with 180-degree panoramic views, is a lap pool, allowing for healthy living and maximum pleasure while on board.

Inside, Jonathan Quinn Barnett created a bright and elegant décor complementing iconic artwork throughout. Her main foyer features a glass elevator accessing all interior spaces. Situated around the elevator is a central staircase wrapped with marble wall panels featuring a seamless vein-matched arrangement.

These remarkable details can be found throughout her multiple living and entertainment areas. With five spacious cabins, SILVER SHALIS can comfortably accommodate 10 guests. The upper deck features an indoor-outdoor dining option with a distinctive 180-degree glass door to convert the space.

This Lloyd’s Class yacht has a cruising speed of 12 knots and a maximum speed of 20 knots. SILVER SHALIS is a go-anywhere yacht that leaves a lasting impression while providing ultimate comfort and performance.
