SURINA

OVERVIEW.

SURINA is a graceful 45-metre (147ft) tri-deck yacht from the esteemed Trident shipyard. She now has a chic, timeless and welcoming interior finished in blond hardwood and neutral tones with a new high-end music system throughout, some design classic furniture and original pieces of modern art, plus an excellent and wide variety of exterior spaces for guests to enjoy.

There's foredeck seating and a daybed on the bow, full walk-around decks on two levels and a sunbathing zone on the foredeck, plus everything else you'd expect. The sun deck has a sociable lounge and observation seats, a jacuzzi tub and a large expanse of sun pads. The upper aft deck, meanwhile, has a large teak dining table, a sit-up bar and a barbecue grill, all in ample shade and the main deck aft has separate lounge areas in shade and full sun.

Her interior layout is also a bit different. The master suite is a large, full-beam cabin, as you'd expect, with a finely crafted hardwood finish, two corner sofas and a study/vanity desk as well as a full-beam his and hers bathroom. The ideally located amidships on the lower deck – the most comfortable part of the yacht when she's anchored or under way – which frees up a huge amount of space on the main deck for luxurious living spaces, more than on a much larger yacht.

The main saloon is very generous with an eight-seat table for games and informal dining plus a lounge and a sit-up bar. The formal dining room is separate, all the way forward on the main deck with spectacular views out in three directions. The bridge deck also has a games table, large lounge area and bar, giving you two of everything and four dining areas in total.

There's also a wide variety of watersports equipment on board and a qualified scuba dive instructor among the crew. The stern platform serves as a beach club with 9m (30ft) floating island and sea pool for safe swimming when the anchor's down. Her inventory of toys includes a large towed tender as well as a 6.7m (22ft) RIB, two Waverunners, two SeaBobs, six paddleboards, a superb selection of waterskiing and wakeboarding kit, fishing, snorkelling and dive gear, exercise equipment and a full set of beach gear for private parties on deserted beaches. There's just so much to enjoy.
